He was offered mentoring during the covid bridge closures and he fucked off and dumped all his work on his subordinates.

I have made it clear to him time and time again that he needs to learn how to write a plan...he dumps the work on his subordinates.

He has told me more than once this past week that "I'm in charge of traffic" and not to do anything without him. He has squandered every opportunity to learn and he can't be mentored during the crisis. I will not work with that man again. You have chosen to have him there and I'm out, so he's yours.

Sorry.... As you mentioned, I can come back into the NCRCC for the next event. He's yours.

I'm not saying this as a disrespect, I'm saying it with all the fat boiled off. I feel completely marginalized and as Denis has told me, he's in charge of traffic.

Overall, I think these look good. Any consideration to pulling back a little bit further and putting Queen St outside the perimeter? I did share your plan with Denis, he asked for mentoring.

This is what I sent Insp Marin last night for his review. I have to do more work today on this.

With the final positioning of trucks in this transition plan we won't need any trucks...and limited heavy barricades to support (Barricades will only be required on Wellington at Lyon and Elgin s/b).

Isabelle is getting me some numbers today so we can figure out if the vehicles can fit in the planned area. If they can't we can stage more on the north sides of both Albert and Slater.

Sir....off the top of my head...haven't compared it to other things sent to me. I just want to go home and I will compare tomorrow.
